ELECTION BOARD WINS DECISION IN ALLEN CAUSE

Oklahoma City Judge Orders Mandamus Cause Dismissed in Hearing Here.

COSTS TO PLAINTIFF

Motion to Quash First Sustained Before Merits of Cause Argued.

The final effort of A. L. Castleman of Allen to have certified the names of the parties elected on a ballot ordered by the district resident judge in the city elections at Allen on April 3 failed here this morning when Judge T. B. Chambers of Oklahoma City, hearing the cause on special assignment, ordered the cause dismissed and the court costs assessed to the plaintiffs.

Judge Chambers took the bench at 9 o'clock this morning, at which time attorneys J. F. McKeel and Robert S. Kerr for the County Election Board, presented a motion to quash the service of the writ of mandamus to force the election board to place the names of candidates receiving the plurality on the ballot ordered by the resident district judge.

Election Board attorneys declared that only the order of the writ had been served.

Court Decision Waived

The court sustained the motion of the defendant but permitted hearing on the merits of the cause when the defendants, agreed to waive the decision of the court.

The cause was later dismissed after the defendants answered the writ and made their returns setting out the points that they had received two returns, one from a purported election board at Allen which they declared was illegal and another from the official board at Allen; that the board in the exercise of its duty refused to certify the return of the alleged illegal board on the grounds that the returns were illegal, void and that the parties in charge of the election were not entitled to hold the election; that the board had decided that the returns of the official board were legal and had certified them.

Following is the journal entry of the court order:

Now on this 20th day of April, 1923, the above entitled and numbered causes coming for hearing in due course and the defendant filing answer and making return showing that the alternative writ of mandamus issued herein has been fully complied with and upon the motion of plaintiff and defendant showing that the writ had been fully complied with the cause is hereby ordered to be dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff; to which the plaintiff excepts the cost being assessed to the plaintiff.

It is therefore ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that the cause be dismissed at the plaintiff's cost.

The combined powers of the offices of the attorney general and the secretary of commerce will be behind the investigation into the recent rise of sugar prices. The probe which will get under way at once comes as a result of charges made by Basil M. MARCOONED PARTY TO RECEIVE AID

Planes Sent to Take Food to Stranded Party on Barren Island.

(By the Associated Press)
NORTHPORT, Mich., April 20.—Shortly before noon a plane from Chicago left here carrying provisions for the relief of nine men and a woman reported starving on South Fox Island.

The DeHavilland plane from Selfridge field broke its landing gear in making a landing here. Lieut. Russell Meredith, the pilot, was uninjured.

Up to early this afternoon no word had been received from the Chicago plane piloted by John Miller, former naval aviator, and it is presumed that it reached the island with more than 200 pounds of food.

NORTHPORT, Mich., April 20.—Lieut. Russell Meredith who last fall flew across the lake to Beaver Island carrying a doctor to a man believed to be dying, will hop off from Selfridge field in a De Havilland army plane in a second attempt to carry aid to nine men and a woman reported starving on Fox Island.

The plane which left the field yesterday crashed on the ice in an attempt to reach them, was abandoned last night after several efforts to remove it from the water had failed. It was then that Lieut. E. C. Whitehead, his pilot, phoned a request to Selfridge field for another plane to be sent.

The eleven injured men were all employed in the starch house and suffered more or less from burns. None was killed, according to M. M. Hennessey, employment manager of the plant.

She Came, She Saw-Our Track Meet

"Why, it's raining in Ada," the peppy delegate told the world as she gathered a 1924 model skirt under her little finger and beckoning to her attendant in waiting to alight from the noon-day train.

"I knew it would rain as usual but I hate to carry raincoats and the like. They are so messy," she added as she gained a conspicuous foothold on the depot platform.

After viewing the changes in the town since her visit for the Tenth Annual Track meet, she decided on a more dramatic and picturesque parade to a proper vantage point.

"Let's just toddle up to the Palm Garden and sip a drink or so before we move around," she suggested before being told that the Palm Garden is no more.

"A frosted cherry coke—I wonder where every body is—I thought I was arriving late—don't see any of the old crowd—I guess that they will come in later," were a few of the comments as the soda hop dusted the table in patient waiting.

"Lo Jerry—Nope just arrived in town and haven't heard a thing—do tell—you don't mean to say that they are going to have the track events out at the city lake and that the tennis will be played in the gym—so interesting—but Jerry when and where do we dance?"

"No Jerry, I don't think I'll hear the preliminaries in music readings and all that. I just know our boys and girls from Podunk will win and I'll just lend 'em my moral support. No, Jerry, I don't even think I'll go to the finals tonight. I always get so excited that I can't dance for a week." And the padded coke arrived.

"I guess I'll go out to the College while I'm here though. I want to see some of those hard-balled professors. I'm going to be a student in The East Central College next year, you know."

COMMUNITTS PUT REIGN OF TERROR IN GERMAN CITY

Authorities Again in Control After Rioting in Muelheim for Three Days.

CASUALTIES REPORTED

Unemployment Causing Unrest Among German Workmen, Dispatches Claim.

(By the Associated Press)

MUELHEIM Germany, April 20.—After being terrorized for three days by communists irregulars who held it, Muelheim is today under control of the constituted German authorities. A force of 300 police and city officials which had been besieged in the Rathaus, made a dash for the great fortress-like building, cut through the lines of the besiegers, attacked them in the rear, arrested many and again took control of the city.

Thirty leaders of communists were arrested. Among them was a man by the name of Kurtain, who is said to have been the leader of the Kiel revolution in 1918. He resisted arrest and was wounded, probably fatally.

The casualty list for the period of the disorders, so far as made up, showed six dead and from 50 to 70 wounded, some of whom will die.

French troops remained throughout the trouble in their quarters near the security police barracks which they occupied. They took no part in the affair which they regarded as a purely German matter.

BERLIN, April 20.—Eight persons so far are reported dead and more than 30 wounded as a result of the disturbances in Muelheim, according to dispatches this noon which said that although the city has been freed from the communist grip, armed bands are still causing trouble in the outskirts.

LONDON, April 20.—A dispatch to the Times from Dusseldorf says the employment council here is reported to have informed the Berlin government that unless the condition of the 30,000 unemployed is relieved, they will volunteer to work for the French.

The dispatch adds that it is said that Russian bolshevik speakers at Bochum advocated violent action by the unemployed. It is asserted by the French that 25 more cars of cereals from the Russian soviet government have arrived in the Ruhr.

Freiburg, Germany, April 20.—French Troops from Offenburg today occupied the Baden towns of Ortenburg and Gengenbach and took possession of the Black Forest railroad.

Men Questioned in Cleaning Up Gang in Mail Robbery

(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, April 20.—Having recovered all but $30,000 of the $2,500,000 in securities stolen by bandits in the robbery of a mail truck in the city April 2, in a series of raids made in St. Louis county yesterday, police and post-office inspectors were questioning the nine men taken in the roundup in an effort to learn whether they participated in the holdup.

The securities, which were found at the home of William F. Doering, an alleged gangster, consisted mainly of unsigned federal land bank notes. Chief Postoffice Inspector Reuter said he believed that William D. Williams, who said he was employed as a yardman by Doering, had some hand in the robbery.

Partner Dances Out But She Keeps on For Record

(By the Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 20.—Miss June Currie, who became the world champion endurance dancer last night, having danced continuously for 90 hours and 10 minutes, was at home resting today and "considering some attractive offers."

Miss Currie was in good physical condition when she stopped and physicians said she could have continued several hours longer. She with Frank Ward also holds the championship for a couple, dancing 57 hours and 20 minutes when Ward was forced to retire because of his heart.

The championship title changed hands 10 times between Tuesday morning and 9:10 last night when Miss Currie left the floor.

STATE KAMELIAS MEET AT TUSLA

Gigantic Parade Slated at Tulsa With Klan in Assistance.

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, April 20.—Thousands of women, including both delegates to the first convention of the order of Kamelia and others from Tulsa and surrounding towns, who will crowd the streets as spectators, cast anxious glances at the clouds, fearing that the weather would interfere with the plans for a gigantic parade at 9 o'clock tonight.

The kamelias will march in full regalia consisting of full length white robes, filmy white flowing white cape and covering for the face. The only insignia on the robe is an embroidered "K" on the left shoulder.

Several hundred klansmen of the local and outside jurisdictions will march with the Kamelias in the parade, robed and masked.

The Chief of Police declared that he anticipated no demonstrations that might require taking unusual precautions.

The Kamelias assembled this morning for a session and there will be an afternoon session followed by a night session immediately after the parade, which will be attended by William J. Simmons, emperor of the K. K. K. and founder of the Kamelia.

WOOD HARDING ABANDON WORLD COURT PROPOSAL

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Expressing the belief that Republican opposition to the administration's world court membership proposition was even stronger than that against the entrance into the League of Nations, Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, today told President Harding that he still believed it was a mistake for the party to urge the proposal.

Mr. Wood's statement to the president constituted the first open opposition to Mr. Harding's proposal among Republican leaders, outside of the "irreconcilable" group of senators. Mr. Wood said afterwards that the president was not weakened in his advocacy of the proposal as outlined in his message to the senate just before the adjournment of congress.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
OMNIPOTENT CARE:—The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.—Psalm 121:8.

WHAT IS INTERESTING?
What are people interested in? What particular line of thought will prove most receptive to the reading public? Almost any writer would give his inheritance to be able to answer these two questions intelligently. Even most popular authors often miss the popular times.

What is popular and interesting at any particular time may not be popular or interesting a year, a decade or a century later. Other writers were as popular as Shakespeare when he was writing, but they have been forgotten while the poet of Avon continues to gain in popularity and interest down through the ages.

The passing fancy is often more remunerative than a thought which will make the author famous. Eugene Field for a number of years lived in comparative poverty, his songs of children being read by many but not appreciated more than some of the dribble that other poets produced. But Fields sang of ideas and ideals that are as permanent as the world itself. As long as mankind continues man, that long will there be a soft spot in the heart for little children, and just that long will a little poem like the following have an appeal:

Little Boy Blue.

The little toy-dog is covered with dust,
But sturdy and staunch he stands;
And the little toy-soldier is red with rust,
And the musket molds in his hands;
Time was when the little toy-dog was new,
And the soldier was passing fair;
And that was the time when our Little Boy Blue
Kissed them and put them there.
"Now, don't you go till I come," he said,
"And don't you make any noise!"

A CHANGE OF HEART NECESSARY.

"Beyond the Alps lies Italy," is the way an old school-master used to express the tendency in mankind to see something great a distance. "Distance lends enchantment to the view," "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country," and other expressions carry out the same thought.

Wewoka is an example of this tendency. This new oil town has a live weekly newspaper, but the merchants do not patronize it as they should and rush off to other towns to tell the world about the greatness of the Wewoka oil fields. The Wewokans ought to realize that to build a city they must have a strongly supported newspaper, and that a good newspaper cannot become a reality without the united support of the citizens. We wish our sister town well, but some of the business men will have to change their attitude before the town becomes a city.

It is reported from Washington that an organization that has worked for years trying to reform the spelling of some English words is about to get busy again. In recent years simplified spelling has made a little progress, several words having been taken up and accepted under a simpler form of spelling. Spelling reform, like most others, comes slowly, custom being the only factor making a word correct or incorrect.

Roy Mitchell, the negro murderer at Waco, Texas, has been tried for five of the many murders he committed and was given the death penalty in each case. He is now facing his sixth trial. In the matter of death sentences Mitchell holds the world championship and no one has expressed a desire to take his championship from him.

The News is in receipt of a marked copy of a paper in Oregon telling of a favorable oil outlook there. All right, we hope you will get it, friends, but after reading of your prospects we are convinced that Pontotoc county is several laps ahead of you already.

The German national debt, which has gained in size by leaps and bounds through unlimited printing of paper money, now runs into the trillions of marks. However, at the present rate of exchange some $50,000,000 or $60,000,000 of good American money would buy in the entire lot.

An observer of human nature cynically remarks that the easiest way to make one's self disgusting to those around him is to make his ailments the principal topic of conversation. Perhaps so, but would the Express man take all the joy out of the lives of those he is hitting at?

A London alarmist says that the opening of King Tut-ankh-Amen's tomb may bring on complications of a serious nature with the Egyptian government. Yes, it does look like a grave matter.—Nashville Southern Lumberman.

BLAKE PLANS TO VISIT COUNTIES

Panhandle to be Brought in Closer Relation With Rest of State.

(By the Associated Press).
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20.—The three counties of the Oklahoma Panhandle, two of them not directly connected with the state by any means of travel except country roads, are to be brought more closely in touch with affairs of state administration by a vacation tour Aldrich Blake, secretary to Governor J. C. Walton, is now making in that territory.

Blake entered the Panhandle by way of Kansas, and will keep four speaking engagements at Laverne, Enfield, Beaver City and Guyton. He will return to the capital at the end of next week by way of Texas. On his return he will stop at Amarillo, Texas, he said.

Cimarron county, the closest corner of which is more than 200 miles from the capital by air-line, has no railroad in its borders. Texas county, lying next to Cimarron, has a railroad which crosses it north and south from Texas to Kansas, but does not enter the rest of Oklahoma. A rail line runs from the northwest corner of Oklahoma proper into Beaver, the county seat of the county of the same name, which is the closest of the Panhandle counties. This line forms the only direct connection of the Panhandle with the rest of the state, and its head is more than 100 miles from the far end of the Panhandle.

The Panhandle counties are only three, and they lie west in a line one after the other from the northwestern corner of Oklahoma. They stretch to New Mexico across the northern boundary of Texas, and Colorado bounds Cimarron county on the north. The journey to this city from Texas county by rail leads either through the states of Texas or Kansas. Residents of Cimarron county travel by trail or country road from fifteen to seventy miles to reach the rail road, before beginning the round about trip to the capital, which cannot be accomplished in less than 24 hours.

THE BURNING HOUSE

(Port Worth Star-Telegram).
William Allen White, returning from a trip abroad likens Europe to a house on fire. He said Europeans are clamoring for the American fire department, but meantime are doing little themselves toward extinguishing the blaze.

The figure is more or less justified, but carrying out the figure, the United States is certainly acting like a next-door neighbor to this burning house, sitting idly by and refusing to help in putting it out simply because his own house has not yet caught fire.

Mr. White said that the United States can help Europe in many ways and suggested an international conference of representatives of all classes in the various nations. "We think an international conference of the economic leaders of these nations would be better."

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

(Holdenville Democrat).
Most of the troubles of both Europe and America nowadays, says Isaac Marcossion, is the zealous effort they are making to find some substitute for work. Obsessed with the idea that government can support the people, the entire population of many nations is quietly drifting with the wreckage of war and waiting for artificial government to catch each citizen by the hair of his head and lift him to a position of affluence and ease. No use to work: the government is going to support us.

Marcossion may have stated the case too strongly, yet he is not altogether wrong. Back of every plea for special privilege is the desire to get something for nothing and to substitute paternalism for honest labor. It is this idea that created the protective tariff principle and that has sustained its life thru the years. The same quest for guaranteed livelihood gave birth to the plan for a ship subsidy. The multiplied blocs in congress were brought into being by the desire to get something from the government for nothing and thereby substitute national charity for honest labor.

That the government has prospered while underwriting the manufacturers is no proof of the soundness of paternalism. That the government is alive today is due solely to the fact that it has subsidiz-

TWO OTHER TO FACE SENTENCE

One Man Serving Time in Penitentiary While Others at Large.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 19—While one of the three alleged slayers of Harold Frye, service car driver, who was killed near Vinita March 25, 1921, has been serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary for nearly two years, the two others have just been apprehended and will be given preliminary hearing at Vinita, Craig county within a few days, according to George Short, attorney general.

Edward Fluke was captured in April, 1921, and is now in the penitentiary. Levi Jenkins was captured Sunday at Three Sands, Kay county, and is lodged in Vinita jail. He will be joined there by Frank Hilderbrand, who has been located in Arkansas, waived extradition, and is now on his way to Vinita to face the charge, the attorney general said.

The murder has been described as one of the most cold-blooded crimes in the history of Oklahoma. The three men were said to have killed Frye for his automobile, shooting him with a pistol after they had hired him to drive them into the country, then to have thrown his body on top of a strawstack to which they set fire.

The flames were extinguished by farmers before the body was consumed, and the death weapon was identified as a .25 calibre pistol. Fluke's arrest was brought about through that clue, the attorney general said, by local officials headed by Jess Ballard, former county attorney.

Clay Roper, now county attorney, asked the aid of the attorney general's office when, he said, Fluke "refused to talk and would not testify at his trial. The authorities at that time were of the opinion that others were implicated with him in the murder, and have at various times tried to secure statements from Fluke, but he has steadfastly refused to talk."

Frye was killed on a lonely road six miles from Vinita late at night, the attorney general said. The slayers were then said to have taken his motor car, which was later discovered at Afton, in Ottawa county.

GRUMPY'S A GROUCH BUT HIS HEART'S ALL GOLD

Theodore Roberts Has Big Role in Wm. de Mille's Picture "Grumpy."

Do you know any person who seems to be an irritable old grouch but who really has a heart of gold? Do you know such a man; who calls his servants "fat-faced fools and idiots," but is nevertheless loved by those servants, who have grown old in his service?

If you do know such a person, then you know the human personification of "Grumpy," the famous stage character that has been brought to the screen by Theodore Roberts, featured in the title role of William de Mille's Paramount production of "Grumpy," which will be shown at the McSwain theatre next Monday and Tuesday. May McAvoy and Conrad Nagel are also featured with Mr. Roberts in this photoplay.

In "Grumpy," Mr. Roberts is the central figure in the hunt for the robber of a valuable diamond. How he follows a clue supplied by a gardenia with a woman's hair wrapped around the stem, and finally brings the culprit to justice and brings two loving hearts together, makes one of the most fascinating picture stories ever told on the screen. "Grumpy" is based on the famous stage play of the same name in which Cyril Maude starred.

EVANS TELLS OF GROWTH OF KLAN

ATLANTA, Ga., April 20.—The week ending March 17 constituted a record in the history of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in regard to the number of men naturalized as citizens of the invisible empire," said Dr. H. W. Evans, Imperial wizard, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

There are 3,982 chartered and provisional Klans at present functioning in the United States of America.

The membership of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan March 1, 1923, runs into the hundreds of thousands.

Four thousand Americans became members of the Ku Klux Klan in the state of Indiana alone during the first ten days of March.

Two thousand new members joined Ohio Klans during the six-day period, Feb. 26 to March 3.

An average of eight new charters a day are being mailed from the imperial palace to Klans in all sections of the United States. If this average is maintained it means that over 2,900 new Klans will be chartered during this year.

Texas, with its 125,000 Klansmen, is being rapidly overtaken in membership by the states of Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Ohio in the order named.

Meatless Days for Refugees

MANILA, April 20.—The Russian refugees under Admiral Stark who are held at the Mariveles quarantine station, have decided to observe two almost meatless days a week in order to reduce the cost of living.

A small ration of bacon is the only meat they will receive on Tuesdays and Friday and by limiting the diet to this extent the supply officers of the ships which brought 800 men, women and children to Mariveles from Vladivostok say that the daily cost of rations per person will be reduced from 24 cents to 22 9-10 cents.

MANY NEWSPAPERS PRINT BIBLE VERSE

(By the Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, April 12.—More than 2,000 newspapers published in America are using passages from the bible in their editions, according to a report compiled by the Back to the Bible Society, which has headquarters here.

The number of newspapers served with the verses from the bible by the bureau has increased from 871 in 1922, to 2,038 in 1923. The report continues:

"The papers which the bureau is serving have a combined circulation of 14,233,254, and reliable authorities on newspapers state that of the matter is well displayed and occupies a preferred position in the paper it will be read by at least two persons for each copy in circulation."

The newspapers now being furnished these verses without cost include 1946 in the United States and its territories; 87 in the Dominion of Canada; 2 in Newfoundland; two in the West Indies and one in Korea.

The report points out that the Church Year Book shows approximately 26,000,000 Protestants and 18,000,000 Roman Catholics in this country making a total of 44,000,000 church members, or 40 per cent of the total approximate population of 110,000,000. Thus, the report shows, 6 per cent are without any kind of church membership.

"On the other hand," the report continues, "nearly every American citizen reads some newspaper and the only immediate and available means of giving the Word of God to the masses is through the press."

Michigan Seeking to Wipe out King Ben's Pet House of David

LANSING, Mich., April 19.—Is Michigan about to witness an exodus of the House of David colony at Benton Harbor as a result of charges filed by the state and the demand that Benjamin Purnell—"King Ben"—the First—show cause why the colony should not be abolished?

Attorney General Dougherty of Michigan, acting on the advice of Governor Groesbeck, has filed charges against the cult alleging that it is based on a foundation of "deceit, immorality and fraud."

The state's action follows revelations made at the trial of the $80,000 suit of J. W. Hansell and his wife, former members of the cult, who are attempting to collect for property out of which they claim to have been victimized by "King Ben."

During the trial numerous witnesses testified that the "Shiloh" the imperial palace of "King Ben" in the House of David colony, was the scene of many acts of immorality under the guise of religious acts.

Other charges of a similar nature have been made from time to time. Recently two girl wives, Mrs. Gladys Bamfield Hubel and Mrs. Ruth Bamfield Hubel and Mrs. Ruth Bamfield Reed, made charges that "King Ben" had married them off after wronging them.

The cult has made its headquarters at Benton Harbor for years. The male members wear long hair and, according to the cult rules, live with their wives as brothers and sisters.

During the recent trial testimony was forthcoming to the effect "King Ben," the self-styled "Son of Man" had made elaborate preparations to flee in case authorities closed in on the colony.

Witnesses from the colony during the Hansell suit denied charges against "King Ben."

BAY STATE HAS VALUE IN FARMS

Farmer of Massachusetts Better off than Average Western Agriculturist.

(By the Associated Press)
BOSTON, April 20.—The individual farmer in Massachusetts is comparatively better off than the agriculturist of the west, but his condition does not compare any too favorably with the industrial worker of the Bay State, according to a report by the State Department of Agriculture.

The crop value of each acre of improved land in the United States in 1922 averaged a little under $17. In Massachusetts the average was about $49. Although it costs more an acre to grow crops in Massachusetts than in some other states, the net income an acre is greatly in excess of that in such agricultural states as Kansas, Wisconsin and Iowa, according to the report.

Massachusetts, with 900,000 acres of improved land, produced crops worth more than $44,000,000 last year, taking the lead among the New England states. Maine and Vermont each has about twice as much improved land as Massachusetts, but Maine's crops in 1922 averaged under $20 per acre and Vermont's $25. Vermont stood second in crop value in New England, with the other states in the following order: Maine, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

"These figures mean that the individual farmer is doing rather better in Massachusetts than in most other parts of the country," the report says, "but it does not mean that his condition compares any too favorably with the worker in the factory and the mill who has a larger gross income without any of the risks or anxieties of the person who has several thousand dollars invested in a rather uncertain business. There are so many things beyond the control of the crop grower that plan as he may there are always surprises, and more of them are against than in favor of a large harvest."

"There is yet to be developed a Massachusetts general farming that will prove attractive to the man who is not forced by health necessity or impelled by large love for the open to follow this calling. As is well known there are specialized lines of agriculture such as market gardening, cranberry culture, tobacco and onion growing, and possibly apple orcharding, that are proving attractive as remunerative business enterprises. Much of the high value of an acre of Massachusetts crops is due to these specialties, but food staples are not as yet profitably specialized in Massachusetts."

Professor Trains Hand to Take Place of Ear Now as Abnormal Sound Detector

CHICAGO, April 20.—The development of a hand to replace the ear as an organ for distinguishing sounds has been carried by Professor Robert H. Gault, of Northwestern University, to the point where university authorities have announced that he believes he is uncovering a new field, which may lead to direct help for the deaf.

Prof. Gault has been able to train John Crane, a student, who is not deaf, to recognize certain spoken words, through the palm of his hand. The vibrations of a voice, speaking through a long tube, are made to impinge on Mr. Crane's palm, while the sound is shut off from his ears. Professor Gault is arranging to experiment with an acousticon in the hand of a stone deaf person, with the speaker a long distance away. He says of these experiments:

"I have concluded that John Crane, when he correctly interprets words and sentences by means of the impression received on the palm of his hand through a long tube, does not hear these words or sentences. In the first place his ears have been plugged either with cotton or putty or with both, his head tightly bound with a thick bandage and a motor has been operated nearby. In the second place his brother George, who has done the speaking, has been distant thirty feet in another room. There are two intervening walls, and even if John were not muffled from sound, I doubt his ability to hear anything. None of us who stood at John's side could catch the words George spoke through the tube."

"My theory therefore is as follows: The sound vibrations are conducted by the nerves from the delicate area in the hand to the general association areas of the brain and there are directly transmitted to the mind. John does not hear the words or the phrases in the accepted senses of the term. It is true that when he is learning a new word he says he thinks he hears it when it is repeated, but when this word is impressed has been indelibly made. John admits that all thoughts of hearing leave him, and as quickly as the vibrations strike his hand, he repeats the word automatically."

Professor Gault is working out a definite process and theory which he hopes to prove of practical use. He thinks it will not be difficult to perfect an instrument that will be easily portable and of use for the deaf.

Commenting on the experience of Willetta Huggins, a deaf girl of Janesville, Wisconsin, who says she hears by means of an acousticon held in her hand, Professor Gault says he is convinced that she does not hear with the ear, but receives the vibrations in the general association areas of the brain. He adds:

"A tuning fork may be placed upon the head or the brow of a stone deaf person, and its vibrations will be clearly detected. A person extremely deaf may go to a telephone and hear a conversation. These are demonstrated facts. It is so remotely possible that the sound actually reaches the auditory nerves in some of these instances that I am convinced that John Crane gets no help from his auditory nerves, when he pronounces words just spoken by his brother, and that Willetta Huggins does not hear at all, but receives the sound impressions by another route."

HONOLULU.—A new summit eruption of the intermittently active volcano of Mauna Loa before 1925 has been forecast by Thomas A. Jagger, Jr., government volcanologist at the Kilauea observatory. Mauna Loa is on the island of Hawaii.

Dr. Jagger says that the Kilauea laval and that of Mauna Loa rise and fall in concert. Both volcanoes connect with the same underground course, the pulsations of which bring about a nine-year cycle of activities.

In connection with this forecast Dr. Jagger urged the construction of a trail to Mauna Loa as a safeguard which would permit quick investigation of activities.

Mauna Loa's last great activity was in 1919, when the lava over-

"MRS. TUCKER'S looks good enough to eat just that way, doesn't it? It's so perfectly clean!" That is a remark we have heard made about Mrs. Tucker's time and again. And that is just the way you will feel the first time you open a can of Mrs. Tucker's and see its creaminess and snowy whiteness.

Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is clean and an absolutely pure vegetable shortening. It has all the richness of butter, yet is no more expensive than ordinary shortening. And it comes to you always fresh, for Mrs. Tucker's is made right here in the South.

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, to please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine."

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs."

"I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time."

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

"If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. I should help you."

JACK HOLT VERSATILE

Star of "Nobody's Money" Plays Widely Different Roles.

Jack Holt has been proclaimed the most versatile star in motion pictures. Not only has such an honor been accorded Mr. Holt, but he has won it honestly. In his latest six pictures, the Paramount star has played what is believed to be the widest variation of characters ever enacted by one screen actor.

In "The Call of the North," Holt was a fur trapper. In "North of the Rio Grande," he was a cowboy. For "While Satan Sleeps," assumed the role of a reformed crook who became a minister. His character in "On the High Seas" was that of a steamship stoker. In "Making a Man," he was a man of wealth and influence.

To top these off, Mr. Holt is now starring in a famous stage success, "Nobody's Money," which Paramount has adapted to the screen from William LeBaron's play, and which comes to the McSwain theatre today. In this picture, Holt is a debonaire young book agent, a role entirely different from anything he has enacted before. It is through these six characterizations, no two of which are in any way the same, that Mr. Holt has won recognition as the most versatile screen star.

Boy Scout News

Roff Scouts have been having nearly all their meetings on Saturday mornings. They get up real early; go out to the park where they study scouting; play games, cook their meals and have a general good time. We are mighty pleased to know that the Roff Scouts are going good again under the leadership of Prof. L. J. Crowder.

The scouts and school children of Vanoss, Roff, Fitzhugh received some real treats this week when Prof. M. J. Hatchett of the East Central Teachers College gave them talks on birds as the real and true friends of all humanity everywhere. He told some very interesting and interesting new things about the robins, blue birds, and other birds as to their great value to the farmer and incidentally to us all. Pontotoc County girls and boys are very fortunate indeed in having such a man as Prof. Hatchett, who knows so many interesting things about all natural life. We expect to have him with our scouts on one of the camping trips this summer. A little later he will go to Francis, Stonewall and Union Valley where he will make talks to the scouts on birds and insects and other things.

Quite a few scouts took off honors at the county Track Meet. We appreciate the very fine spirit of co-operation on the part of the Ada schools superintendent, high school and ward principals and that of Miss Watson at the College training school in assisting us to give the "Life of Christ" examinations.

Oakman Scouts had a great time on their fishing trip last week. The scout executive and scoutmaster, Roy Meek went to Sapulpa at the week end to attend a conference for scoutmasters, troop committee men, and the scout executive.

Following is a list of the scouts per Ward School who took the "Life of Christ" examination.

Willard school had 10 boys to take the examination: Hayes school, 8; Glenwood, 4; Washington, 4; Irving, 5; College training, 2. Some boys passed a very good examination. Others show that they need to learn a great deal more concerning the most important person who ever came into this world. Leaders of the respective Sunday schools will judge the papers.

He is accredited with 2 strike-outs.

Herndon, Edmond moundsman, allowed six hits, three of which were for additional bases. He walked one man.
